Essence of time

Vision Divine

I shiver 'cause you took my breath away Unknown strange and beautiful raves of sin Every thought you had became one with my senses My vessel goes brought by the wind of seers

And now that I know the reason why... Why you came to me Part of the same continuous line we are

What is a simple life compared with the essence of time That will never stop? I wanna leave it all behind

Now tell me: is it true or is it just a fake? I'm here to live the same that you've got before Just a different life, just a different perception My life was lost, I challenged the fate in vain...

And now that I know the reason why... Why you came to me Part of the same continuous line we are

What is a simple life compared with the essence of time That will never stop? I wanna leave it all behind

And now leave me I need to stay alone Just let me breathe And think about this world father

I wonder why Why is it wrong? I just want to know How can I still stand that

All... All that I suffered inside Could just rewind and restart? No... I've had enough

And you, God How can you hurt me so bad? Didn't I pay fair enough? Please, let me reach the dawn

I don't want this to be forever I was lost I just felt too much alone I needed to believe in Heaven...

"Welcome to real madness, welcome we're with you Open your heart, don't hold back, we came for you Welcome to real madness, welcome we're with you Open your heart, don't hold back, we came for you"

And now that I know the reason why... Why you came to me Part of the same continuous line we are

What is a simple life compared with the essence of time

That will never stop? I wanna leave it all behind ...time...
