

Now That All The Heroes Are Dead

Vision Divine

Can you recognize this scent?
It's the salt coming from the sea
We pull bodies to our chest
With its taste on our lips

Look up Look at this mantle filled with stars
Winding us all in peace
Silence gets broken by the waves
Time has come

We're left alone
Now that all our Heroes are dead
They are all gone
Once our Salvation
Now they lie on the sand
The end

Who will save us now
From the dark days coming forth?
They were the keepers of our hopes...
We fall down

Now that all our Heroes are dead
They are all gone
Once our Salvation
Now they lie on the sand
The end

Now that all Heroes are dead
They are all gone
Once our Salvation
Now they lie on the sand

Now that all Heroes are dead
They are all gone
Once our Salvation
Now they lie on the sand
The end
