Vision of Disorder

you look me straight in the eyes it's like a reaction felt straight to the heart makes me feel like I've been alive makes me wonder if I got he strength to carry on not just to get by whats with you son? a fatal vision not the only one it's like sand in my face i feel the blood drip in my eyes it's like a constant picture inside never fades, never slips away it stays imprinted inside i slipped again, underneath again eyes slip back into the head i see the pictures again i grit my teeth in my sleep a shallow imprint, step to the grave you ain't getting far, you're a walking stone you ain't getting very far where you gonna run when you're running from yourself you look up to me believe me, believe i'll tear you apart cause I ain't one to fuck with someday I'll cut you just like they cut me so look me straight in the eyes vengeance and hate runs deep i'll always know where you sleep
