

Black River Delta

Visions of Atlantis

I spread false news
Never on the way to my perfection
I won't leave this world alone

Why do I accelerate?
Why do I believe in lies that I have used before?

So trust in what I gave to you
Follow me and I will follow you

Everything's different since I was alive
My tainted soul is now washed clean
No need to cry
Black river delta will consign me to the sea

Riding with strong current into our fate
Passengers unable to navigate

I watch the moon guiding my remains
Tiding away
Nothing to regret
I am long since dead
Let the ocean be my permanent site
My bed for eternity

Why did I take this divergency
Tiding me into the wrong direction
Why am I still caught in this earthly me
While the water gets gluey and thick

I am now a part of conscience
Greater than anything I knew before

Everything's different since I was alive
My tainted soul is now washed clean
No need to cry
Black river delta will consign me to the sea
