

It's all in my head, now I'm stuck in the void again

Tie it off, break the bread
Feel the love and melt the surface again
Spill it out, the disco ball
Say the word and I'll give in

Pressed to fill the void again
Lost it all while I'm seeing red
It's all in bloom when I find a friend
Marks the threshold

Save yourself (Yourself)
You know I'm tired of saving you (Know I'm tired of saving you)
Drown me out, hope you figure it out
Before the walls close in

It's all in my head, now I'm stuck in the void again

I've been searching for you around this empty house
I've been searching for the record you never stuck around

(It's all in my head, now I'm stuck in the void again)

Save yourself
You know I'm tired of saving you
Drown me out, hope you figure it out
Before the walls close in

I've been waiting for this moment just to let it out
So I can save myself

I've been searching for you around this empty house
I've been searching for the record you never stuck around
'Cause every time I find you, I'm reminded of the sound
I've been searching for the record you never stuck around
