

Yesterday

Votchi

Yesterday I had dream. In my dream you taught me to fly.
And it wasn't just an illusion, 'cause in the morning I woke up in the sky.
But you left me without any reason why,
You simply left me.
On my own wings you sentenced me to fall
Falling, I'm falling.

Yesterday I had a dream. In my dream I saw you dancing in the moonlight.
And it couldn't be illusion, 'cause now I know that you're my lucky star.
But you left me without any reason why,
You simply left me.
On my own wings you sent me to the ground

Falling through the ocean,
Falling to hell.

Falling down from empty space
With a dying grin on my face,
Searching for a landing field,
I will fall through (in)to hell

Falling, I'm falling

I'm falling to the grave 'cause I was your slave,
But I don't wanna die when everything is fine

Yesterday I had a dream
