

I'm losing grip, I'm out of touch
Too late to say "I've had enough"
It's like every breath could be my last
My demons won't stay in the past

All alone
On my own

Pull me close I feel the water reach around my neck
Don't let go just show me that there's better days ahead
Make me see I'm only half the person I should be
Pull me close set me free from this gravity

I can't move forward and keep looking back
Hindsight has left me where I'm at
I tried to run but I couldn't see
That you were right beside me

All alone
On my own

Pull me close I feel the water reach around my neck
Don't let go just show me that there's better days ahead
Make me see I'm only half the person I should be
Pull me close set me free from this gravity

There is a light in the tunnel but it's distant
On my own I don't think that I can fix this Set me free from this gravity

Pull me close I feel the water reach around my neck
Don't let go just show me that there's better days ahead
Make me see I'm only half the person I should be
Pull me close set me free from this gravity
Pull me close set me free from this gravity
