

Will We Ever Learn

Wage War

Face-to-face but never eye-to-eye
All this vision but we're going blind
Always running, we can never hide
From all the emptiness we feel inside

We let emotion get away from us
But feeling nothing could be dangerous
Fighting wars just to settle bitter blood
Built to fall just like the setting sun

Death walks among us
His sword hangs above us
We want to be loved but
Love doesn't want us

We hate what we don't know
Refusing to let go
We let it burn, we let it burn
Oh, will we ever learn?

There's a prison we can never see
We've built the walls that keep us out of reach
If we could see the problem starts with "Me"
(We'd see a world we thought could never be)

Death walks among us
His sword hangs above us
We want to be loved but
Love doesn't want us

We hate what we don't know
Refusing to let go
We let it burn, we let it burn
Oh, will we ever learn?

Can you see it now?
Do you feel it now?
Can you see it now?
Do you feel it now?

Do you feel it now?
Will we ever learn?

Death walks among us
His sword hangs above us
We want to be loved but
Love doesn't want us

We hate what we don't know
Refusing to let go
We let it burn, we let it burn
Oh, will we ever learn?
