My thoughts control me.

I can't hold back any longer,
I must commit these acts,
My fantasies compel me,
Watching,
Stalking,
Waiting,
Planning this perfect crime.
I have studied your surroundings for months now.
I know exactly when to make my move, and exactly how i'm going to make my move.
A perfect murder to me is all about strategy,
So unaware as i stalk flawlessly,
Repeatedly in my dreams I have pulled this job.

In front of the mirror as you prepare for sleep,
This is when I sneak behind and put the barrel of the shotgun t o your head,

I like it when you see my face.

A blow to the skull, I make sure your still alive. I only kill quick when necessary, but this is a score I must se ttle.

Now is when my fantasies come, so I reach for my blade inflicting this mutilation, slashing your face, stomping your b ody,

I love to see you in such pain, for this pain is my extasy. Suck the barrel, and look at me in the eye,

Do you think I really give a fuck about what i'm going to do? Decapitated by 12 gauge slugs, I can't even recognize half your body anymore.

Your family will probably tell the authorities I'm a suspect, So I eliminated them before I eliminated you, Dragging you to the basement, I place you with the rest, nude, in perverted positions with your loved ones. Fiendishly I masturbate to the scene I have created, the investigators are going to be shocked. My payoff, my crime gets televised, Overwhelmed with laughter as I realize, They'll never catch me.
