

New Rebellion

Warrant

I'm always lookin' for that silver lining
I don't need no holy pot of gold
I hear the voices sellin' me salvation
I don't need no pretty words to sacrifice my soul

Sick and tired of all the smoke and mirrors
You know I can't tell wrong from right

Come on, flip the switch and start a new rebellion
I get the feelin' it's time to pick a fight
Come on, world is ready, start the new rebellion
There's revolution in the air tonight

You always told me I was like a brother
Anything I need you'd gladly risk it all
When I was fallin' and trouble finally found me
Brother where for art thou you won't return my call

Sick and tired of all the smoke and mirrors
You know I can't tell wrong from right

Come on, flip the switch and start a new rebellion
I get the feelin' it's time to pick a fight
Come on, world is ready, start the new rebellion
There's revolution in the air tonight

Liar liar the world is on fire
But everyone knows your game
Higher and higher the world that inspire
Will burn down this house in your name
Hey hey, burn down this house

Sick and tired of all the smoke and mirrors
You know I can't tell wrong from right

Come on, flip the switch and start a new rebellion
I get the feelin' it's time to pick a fight
Come on, world is ready, start the new rebellion
There's revolution in the air tonight

Come on, and start a new rebellion
Come on, it's time to pick a fight
Come on, start the new rebellion
There's revolution in the air tonight
