

I Am

Waterdeep

I am more than you think
I am more than you know
I'm as black as the darkest night
And whiter than snow
You're tipping through wires and words
And spires and tombstones

I have burned with desire
Felt the air become fire
Buried Myself with stones
Given lions my bones
And I love you whether or not you believe Me

I'm as swift as an arrow
But I'm slow when you stray
I'm as calm as the waters
That we walked on that day
And I love whether or not you believe Me

If you ask Me again My reply still will stand
I am who I am
And I love whether or not you believe Me
