Yo Me and E, we get dumb retarded
Up at Star Trek territory space uncharted
Far from the formulas we gettin' bombarded with
We're just tryin' to reach our target
Audience which is beyond the sun
And they won't hear this til' 3001
So when I speak out I'm a speak loud as a gun
To cut through the sound of E pounding the drum
I rep where I'm at and I rep where I'm from
And I rep where I been, where my journey is done
Man I know that one day I gotta die
So until then I make myself feel high
Cause music is a powerful thing
And if you move by the bug it's a powerful sting
I pace around in the booth like a boxer move around
In the ring and confidently knock you out in one swing
Yo I'm not really a religious person
But it's more than a physical force that I'm immersed in My religion is music
And you can doubt all you want, I ain't come here to prove shit

Day by day I just try to solidify my little life
And the trumpets blow
Day by day I just try to solidify my little life
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
Yeah, yeah

Yo the world's full of pain and misery
I feel it everyday even when I don't project it
Visibly, it's something I wasn't prepared for
Went to the music and asked what I was there for
I said I came for the healing
I came so my fam won't have to see me hang from the ceiling
Came for the pain that I'm feeling
I came for the same reason you say God's name when you're kneeling
Cause happiness is the destiny
And feeling this good equals success to me man
I can't even express this fucking sentiment
It's better than any drug I've ever experimented with Better than X and it's better than sex
And it's better than cheques the highest paid man ever collects
It's better than an orgasm and it last way longer
Every song we're on makes me stronger

Day by day I just try to solidify my little life
Let them motherfuckers know
Day by day I just try to solidify my little life
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
Yeah, yeah

The moral of the song is nothing at all
There ain't no lesson even fucking involved
I'm just trying to explain where I'm coming from y'all
Like Pink Floyd said I'm just a brick in the wall
I call my life little but the shit isn't small
The music makes it more significant all
Of the words that I write when I'm spitting at y'all

Make me feel so damn tall and I'm still growing

Day by day I just try to solidify my little life
Everyday I grow

Day by day I just try to solidify my little life
Let's do that shit one more time, come on!

Day by day I just try to solidify my little life
Day by day I just try to solidify my little life
