Wayne Hancock

Well your new looking called me last night. (?) He got drunk and tried to start a fight. I pulled my pistol from my pocket and then I wrecked his brains, I got your love and his blood on my hand I got your love and his blood on my hand, if i can't have your love I'd rather be your only man but next time we're together you'll be on the witness I got your love and his blood on my hand. Solos Well Jonhnny Law will looking hard I know, but I can't let him catch me, so I gotta go. But I'm tired of running, so here I'll make my stand, I got your love and his blood on my hand I got your love and his blood on my hand, if i can't have your love I'd rather be your only man. But next time we're together you'll be on the witness stand, I got your love and his blood on my hand.
