

The Method

We Are Scientists

I watched you watching me from laboratory five.
The breathing mask and safety goggles accentuate your eyes.

Suddenly I feel
That which the method would never allow.
I try to abide by the methodology,
When all I want to do is follow my heart.
But when you are a part of the scientific scene,
The greatest monster of all is love.

Chemistry cannot explain this burning I feel inside.
You've catalyzed a titration that nebulized my mind.

Suddenly I feel
That which the method would never allow.
I try to abide by the methodology,
When all I want is to follow my heart.
But when you are a part of the scientific scene,
The greatest monster of all is love.

Suddenly I feel
That which the method would never allow.
I try to abide by the methodology,
When all I want is to follow my heart.
But when you are a part of the scientific scene,
The greatest monster of all is you my love.

Love is something I
Simply can't pin down.
Love is something I
Simply can't pin down.
Love is something I
Simply can't pin down.
Love is something I
Simply can't pin down.
