

Bring You Home

We Are The Emergency

Only whispers of storms,
And how they had to come
And shadows that speak of a time we were young
If I could take back
All the things that we've done
My heart won't forgive me the breath in my lungs
And wouldn't take you away from me
They'll take you away
They'll take you away from me

So kiss me goodbye
Touch me one last time
And pray to get my heart
It's gonna bring you home
And the poison in your veins
All the time 'til I feel safe
So please come back
Tell me a lie, a lie

Woh tomorrows are lies
That I could say
Tell me which one of those
Would make you stay
Just the lie we'll spin
For another's cause
It's not better all alone
This you seek in their flaws

I'll bring you home,
I'll bring you home, I'll bring you home

So kiss me goodbye
Touch me one last time
And pray to get my heart
Its gonna bring you home
And the poison in your veins
All the times 'til I feel safe
So please come back
Tell me a lie, a lie

I want to follow you to heaven
Please god damn it
Do not do what you want
There are other ways of creating
And lets imagine that you're just right here
I can see through the solitude
We will rise again to runaway
So hold on to me while I follow,
Follow you and reach for the clouds

So kiss me goodbye
Touch me one last time
And the poison in your veins
All the times 'til I feel safe
So please come back

Tell me a lie, a lie
