

All of This Has to End

We Are the Ocean

Well all I hope is that you forgive me and understand how I feel

All I wanted to do was tell you what was true, but it had its effects, I could tell

My heart's in broken pieces but I don't pity myself because I'm to blame

I couldn't carry on this way when all I wanted was to stay

It took its toll on me

And I will never forget, no, I will never pretend it meant nothing to me

But you weren't the only thing here, but you weren't the only thing that mattered to me

But even when I had to go away, you were always on my mind, but that wasn't enough for you

My heart's in broken pieces, but I don't pity myself, pity myself

I couldn't carry on this way when all I wanted was to stay

It took its toll on me, its toll on me

And I will never forget, no, I will never pretend it meant nothing to me

All of this has to end, all of this had to end

My heart's in broken pieces but I don't pity myself because I'm to blame, yeah

I couldn't carry on this way when all I wanted was to stay

It took its toll on me, its toll on me

And I will never forget, no, I will never pretend it meant nothing to me

All of this has to end

It took its toll on me
