

HALF HEARTED

We Three

I haven't said a word
But you know what I'm thinking
Like I know what you're thinking
That's why both of us are drinking

Can you feel it in the air?
Couldn't cut it with a bread knife
I'm to blame for both your wet eyes
I'm aware, but I'm too scared to fight

The fighting is done and nobody's won
So now we're just laying here with steaming empty guns

And half of my heart has always been yours
So now I'm just laying here in pieces on the floor

The only words you've said
Is I like it when you hug me
Cause I kind of feel you love me
Girl, I've never never loved you

But something went wrong
Like our colors faded
Can you feel it in the air?
And in the way you're staring, babe

The fighting is done and nobody's won
So now we're just laying here with steaming empty guns

And half of my heart has always been yours
So now I'm just laying here in pieces on the floor

Can you feel it in the air
Can you feel it in the air
Can you feel it in the air
Can you feel it in the air

The fighting is done and nobody's won
So now we're just laying here with steaming empty guns

I should've said a word
Cause you're wrong what you were thinking

No, that's not what I was thinking

Girl, I'm only ever thinking of you
