

Always with Me

Westlife

They say that time can heal a broken heart
But I just don't know how this could be true
Everyday I see a picture on my wall
My heart is broken into two

Now I'm half the man without you
And it's getting harder everyday

I'll never let go
You're the one that keeps me breathing
Time slows even though the world keep spinning
And I know in my heart you'll always be
You will be right here always with me

We share our life together build our dreams forever
This much I know that is true
But I'd give anything to see your smile again
And have just one more dance with you

And I've been half the man without you
And It's getting harder everyday

I'll never let go
You're the one that keeps me breathing
Time slows even though the world keep spinning
And I know in my heart you'll always be
You will be right here always with me

I'll never let go
You're the one that keeps me breathing
Time slows even though the world keep spinning
And I know in my heart you'll always be
You will be right here always
You will be right here always with me
Right here always
With me
