

Eighth Wonder

White Heart

I've been thinking about me
Wondering who I am
Trying to be somebody
Wonderin' if I can

I look into the mirror
Have this silent fear
There is no one really there

They say, there are seven wonders of this world
What would the eighth one be?
If I could just love myself
The way, the way that the Lord loves me

If there are seven wonders of this world
What would the eighth one be?

I keep building and building
Walls around the truth
But what I'm really needing
Is to find my rest in You

Nothing will have meaning
Till I start believing
Just how much I mean to You
How much I mean to You

They say, there are seven wonders of this world
What would the eighth one be?
If I could just love myself
The way, the way that You love me

Lord, I feel the wonder in this world
When I understand
Through Your loving eyes, You see
The wonder of who I am

Lord, I feel the wonder in this world
When I understand
Through Your loving eyes, You see
The wonder of who I am
