Sonny Feeling

I was on my way home From high school Stuck at the crossing I dug in for a duel

But at the last moment I buried the brakes My life split in two directions Into two separate fates

I got on the last flight To Amsterdam But couldn't hit the runway So we took off again

'Aw, there's no need to worry' The captain cut in 'The winds are less angry Over in Berlin'

You know it's true The other shoe It waits for you What can you do? Remember to show gratitude The darkest night is nothing new

Sonny's got a problem All the mini-mart clerks know She knows nothing of Eminem's Suburban gangster flow

Oh maybe it's random How each moment unfolds It didn't feel like the wrong time or place Until they cut off her clothes

A sonny feeling is taken away A sonny feeling is taken away A sonny feeling is taken away A sonny feeling is taken away

I'm on my way home From my high school I'm always contemplating Why the kids are still cruel Oh The kids are still cruel

A sonny feeling is taken away A sonny feeling is taken away A sonny feeling is taken away Some of the feeling gets taken away
