

Sammy Davis Jr's One Good Eye

Will Haven

when a world comes to this for a one eyed god
put a headlock on death with a book of love

choose your faith
take control
just for frills
rebel up
cure your heart
real eyes

and all we take, winds up in fire when a corpse for rent is giving your life hell

and the world is cut off you're drivin back to l.a. back to l.a.
we're back to the grave

choose your faith
take control
just for frills
could it be
that's what's wrong
realize

one eyed god in our world comes to life pushing closer
every time that you think you're on your way give it your all opening more doors than a bomb the candy man can written out of all the history books and hollywood
everything that eye saw, blows your mind triumph over time to head to vegas on a roll over and over again (give pints of blood)

now you will fly, and you will hope give your left eye, on your way home
