

It's A Shame

Will Hoge

How would this be if I was alone tonight
Maybe then my love everything would turn out right
I wish that this were easy but you know that it never is It seems like hearts get broken during things like this

And if you see her walking down along these streets
Her body softly swayin' to her heart's broken beats
And if you see her tell her that I'm doin' fine
And tell her if she feels like talkin' she should call me somet ime

And I can't fight it anymore
I can't stop it once it starts

Well it's a shame, babe
Well it's a shame, babe
Well it's a shame, babe
The way we've torn it all apart

And if you see her let her know I wish her well
And if things will get much better tell her only time will tell
'Cause if she's lonely well I'm alright
'Cause you know
When it falls down I'll be there to pick it up one more time

And I can't fight it anymore
I can't stop it once it starts

Well it's a shame, babe
Well it's a shame, babe
The way we've torn it all apart
