

Through Missing You

Will Hoge

There's a full moon shining on a broken home
There's a fool drinking whiskey and it's almost gone
If I had a dime for every tear I lost
I could buy that moon and just turn it off

One more trip around the block
One more hour off the clock
One more wasted afternoon
Missing you, missing you
Another night not worth a damn
Another day and here I am
Wishing I was through
Missing you, missing you

If I could build myself a time machine
I could move on past your memory
Stumble in love with someone new
But that's three things that I can't do

One more trip around the block
One more hour off the clock
One more wasted afternoon
Missing you, missing you
Another night not worth a damn
Another day and here I am
Wishing I was through
Missing you, missing you

Someday soon you won't cross my mind
Someday soon might be a long, long time

One more trip around the block
One more hour off the clock
One more wasted afternoon
Missing you, missing you
Another night not worth a damn
Another day and here I am
Wishing I was through
Missing you, missing you

I can't wait until I'm through
