

Nothing Takes the Place of You

William Bell

I moved your pictures from my wall
And I replaced them, both large and small
And each new day finds me so blue
Nothing takes the place of you

I read your letters one by one
And I still love you, when it's all said and done
And oh, my darling I'm so blue
Because nothing, oh nothing takes the place of you

As I write this letter
It's raining on my window pane
And I feel the need of you
Because without you nothing seems the same

So I'll wait until you're home
Again I love you but you know I'm all alone
And oh, my darling, I'm so blue
Because nothing oh, nothing takes the place of you
