Fortunes Blood

Winterstorm

Silently the knight has fallen
For our sworn on our knees we've be crawling
Bringing torture and dismay
With the dawning of the day

See what the elves told will proved to be our destiny For the Fortune's Blood We're rising our sacred hearts

Hear the battle drums at night They are calling for the fight That's what we are coming for It's the power of the north!

See what the elves told will proved to be our destiny For the fortune's Blood We're rising our sacred hearts
