

My Heart Is Alive

Wisdom

The rain falls down on my face
The rain falls I've been losing my faith
The rain falls still nobody cares
Just empty promises, nothing else

Where should I go, oh what can I do?
I want to know just like you

I wonder how frail I am
Remember how I was a blind man
Pretender, no I'm not a fake
My feelings poison me like a snake

I stand for a while, realize why I live
My heart is alive, I want to believe
Now I let the rain wash away all my pain
My heart is alive and I will find my way
