

Heavy Weather

Wishbone Ash

Scattered storms from Reno to L.A
The city of canyons, hot as hell all day
Tornadoes in the alley, turbulent air
Event horizon, we're not even sure we care

Trouble is brewing, I feel it all around
People all over on shaky ground
Discontent out on the streets
Tempers flaring in the dust and heat

Fruits of love
Yours and mine
Would see brighter days
In another time
What brought us here
And has come to pass
Heavy weather
Surely cannot last

Dark clouds, flood waters rising
We don't change, hardly surprising
I might sigh and you may frown
But we can see it's all coming down

Fruits of love
Yours and mine
Would see brighter days
In another time
What brought us here
And has come to pass
Heavy weather
Surely cannot last
