

Searching for Satellites

Wishbone Ash

Fellow travelers, you seekers of truth
Faithful followers and friends from my youth
We've seen our star rise, felt the warmth of the sun
In our time under the skies, I feel we are one

What is the message that we get from above?
There's only one answer and that answer is love
The answer is love

Searchng for satelllites and celestial spheres
Nurturing acolytes down through the years
Songs of redemption, songs of regret
These words worth repeating: forgive and forget

What is the message that we get from above?
There's only one answer and that answer is love
Look at us working as we tally the score
What is the answer? The answer is more
The answer is more love

What is the message that we get from above?
There's only one answer and the answer is love
Send me that message from high above
There's only one answer and the answer is love
The answer is love (Answer is love)

The answer is love
