

Chasing Chimaera

Wolfnacht

Twilight of an Era, in Ruins, Flames, and Blood Hidden in the Shadows of the Reich, a Clandestine Order has gathered under a Veil of Secrecy.
Twelve Waffen SS Soldiers, two Scientists and a Researcher of the Arctic Circle,
prepare to sail towards the Great Northern Sea.

A Voyage beyond this World...

Militant figures arrived at dawn,
supplied with heavy weaponry and diving gear
A Kriegsmarine Vessel is standing alone with its Swastika Flag proudly waving in the freezing morning wind.
Raindrops fall from the cloudy skies lashing the Waves with relentless wrath.
The Warship is manned and departs from the coast
with its crew on the way to their Ultima Thule to the Gate beneath the Pole-Star...

"What fate and nameless terror is guarding this gate,
protecting the secrets of this Terra Incognita,
where Apollo was flying with his Chariot of Swans,
to reunite with his followers in bliss and prosperity..
What deathly traps lurk among these masses of ice,
which thousand years have sculpted, towering and sharp
it is yet to seen..."

Their supportive force is experienced troops has revealed its presence.
Two U-Boats emerged, as soon as they reached the high seas
The Mysterious fleet was now heading to the Uttermost North
