

We're fighting for our lives
What we deserve is nothing
Which one of us survives?
I fear that history repeats itself
(That history repeats itself, that history repeats itself)
That history repeats itself
(That history repeats itself)

We haven't found the shame (Found the shame)
That ties us to our name

(Are we bound?) The terrors of the past are not long forgotten
(Are we free?) When history repeats itself
(Are we bound?) The errors have amassed, they're spoiled, they're rotten
(Are we free?) When history repeats itself

We're fighting for our lives
What we deserve is nothing
Which one of us survives?
Will we be free?
Is it the hate that dies
Or just another victim?
Which one of us survives?
Will we be free?

We haven't found the shame (We haven't found the shame)
That binds us to our name (That binds us to our name)
When the colors that we choose make us pawns in a game
There's no one else to blame

(Are we bound?) The terrors of the past are not long forgotten
(Are we free?) When history repeats itself
(Are we bound?) The errors have amassed, they're spoiled, they're rotten
(Are we free?)
Proof that a war is still waging

We're fighting for our lives
What we deserve is nothing
Which one of us survives?
Will we be free?
Is it the hate that dies
Or just another victim?
Which one of us survives?
Will we be free?

Suddenly we're drowning
On these tepid seas (We are so indifferent)
Do we all we believe that
We're finally free?
Free
The history repeats itself

Are we all alone now on these trepid seas?
Do we all believe that we're finally free?
