

Silent Anthem

Wolves At The Gate

I'm not singing this song like it's fading in the background
I'm not singing this song like it's going to be the last time

The first note of the melody has rung out
Too much of the divine
The curse is the end of the verse with a thunderous voice
But you draw the line
Just silence the beauty
And fill the world with pain
Just violence and chaos
Where all is lost and vain

My heart still echoes the words
You burned inside that are endless
The anthem of heaven
But if you silence this song
The rocks will cry out
The anthem of heaven

The chord rings but you want to hear a new song
A chorus to the dirt
Discordant anthems of melodic cancer rise to fall
Before eternity
You filled us with screams of, screams of symphonic pain
You love the broken voice
We're screaming, we're screaming
Screams of symphonic pain

My heart still echoes the words
You burned inside that are endless
The anthem of heaven
But if you silence this song
The rocks will cry out
The anthem of heaven

I'm not singing this song like it's fading in the background
I'm not singing this song like it's going to be the last time

When this poor broken frame lies silent in the grave
I'll rise to hear of the song of sinners saved

My heart still echoes the words
You burned inside that are endless
The anthem of heaven
But if you silence this song
The rocks will cry out
The anthem of heaven

Worthy is the Lamb that was slain
Worthy is the Lamb that was slain

Worthy is the Lamb that was slain
Worthy is the Lamb that was slain
Worthy is the Lamb that was slain
Worthy is the Lamb that was slain
Worthy is the Lamb that was slain
Worthy is the Lamb that was slain

Worthy is the Lamb that was slain
