

Behind the rain

Wynardtage

When the dark clouds overcome
And the rain falls all along
Rising cold waves bring the fear
The walls of lying dissapear
Walking shadows steal the light
And reign over day and night
Grabby demons deliver pain
We need a place to hide again

But the rain still surrounds me
Just like it was before
And the tears will remind me
Even more and more

All dried out without life
My body feels so cleared
But soon I will arise
Nothing shall be feared
