

Killing The Blues

Wynardtage

If you can show me your heart
I will defend it with my life
If you can lay down your curse
I will commend it with my eyes

And there are times recognizing
Think on the one substitutes
All pressure of lone denying
The horrors of longing youth

Can we add a new worth
Can we spread the truth
What time can answer
What's killing blues

Can we add a new life
Can we spread the charge
What time can answer
What's killing blues

Despite the one always suffered
For now it's true for now it's real
The moments of building structures
How overwhelmed do I feel

What never natural matters
In former times never done
But time and distance erasing
A second chapter begun

Can we add a new worth
Can we spread the truth
What time can answer
What's killing blues

Can we add a new life
Can we spread the charge
What time can answer
What's killing blues
