

I Should Have Known

Xmal Deutschland

I should have known before we met
You're just some passenger
Who crossed my way somehow
Go where you think you belong
That's where you came from anyway
A while ago, a while ago, a while ago
Some time ago, some time ago, some time ago

I should have known
It's all a game
I should have known
Always the same
I laugh today, I laugh today
I love today
Nothing comes my way
Nothing's wrong today
Nothing's wrong today

I wrote my name all over your door
My precious blood
Was good enough for you
But things appear in a different light
'Cause love doesn't come from above

I should have known
It's all a game
I should have known
Always the same
I laugh today, I laugh today
I love today
Nothing comes my way
Nothing's wrong today

I should have known, should have known

I should have known
It's all a game
I should have known
Always the same
I laugh today, I laugh today
I love today
Nothing comes my way
Nothing's wrong today
