

We seem to have the world
Here in our hands
It's smaller than we thought it was and now I understand
Some of us survive
Some will get torn
If I lose my confidence I'll borrow yours
See me now
Here me out

Look for me tonight
And swear that nothing's gonna break our hearts this time
Save me from myself
Be the soundtrack to these stories that I tell

Take every single year
From then until now
Fables start to change and my head reaches through the clouds
When I'm standing trial
I will need you
Cause every wish we made is finally coming true
See me now
Here me out

Look for me tonight
And swear that nothing's gonna break our hearts this time
Save me from myself
Be the soundtrack to these stories that I tell

Mirrors show me upside down
Clocks are counting backwards
Here without you I could drown
You pull me to the surface
Ticking time is running out
But we've got symphonies still
Left inside us

Look for me tonight
And swear that nothing's gonna break our hearts this time
Save me from myself
Be the soundtrack to these stories that I tell

Save me from myself
Be the soundtrack to the stories that I tell
