

Georgia Vs. Yo La Tengo

Yo La Tengo

I like to hold hands when we walk, I'm not adverse to pillow talk
But I prefer a private joke, the memory it evokes
Because, its our punchline, its our punchline
That film we saw from the front row, it means so much to us alone
I love the wrinkled brows of anyone else around
Because its our punchline, its our punchline
And when were out then you say, "It would appear we laugh and laugh no one else hears," no one at all, at all, at all...
And when were out then you say, "It would appear that no one else hears, " no one at all, at all, at all
If you want to be a romantic fool you don't have to say I love you, just say whats in your heart, non-sequitor or not, and without even trying find your punchline, find your punchline....
