

Shattered Dreams of a Broken Nation

YOHIO

How dare you say you care at all?
Over and over, Over and over
You repeat what you can't undo
The words are slipping through your mouth and you bite your tongue
Nothing good will follow
Your true intentions are distinguished by your ignorance of the consequences

Take a break and ask yourself...
"Is it worth it in the end?"

We are the ones who live
In the shadows of your sins...
Make me understand
We make this world go round
Even if you thing you do...
Make me understand

You call yourself a "Man of Words"
We don't believe you, we don't believe you Cause we don't see a reason to
You are so pathetic, everything that's on your mind is economic welfare
I hope you are happy making diagrams over Shattered Dreams of a Broken Nation

Take a break and ask yourself...
"Is it worth it in the end?"

We are the ones who live
In the shadows of your sins...
Tell us what's your plan
We make this world go round
Even if you thing you do...
Make us understand

We are the ones who live
In the shadows of your sins...
Make me understand
We make this world go round
Even if you thing you do...
Make me understand

We are the ones who live
In the shadows of your sins...
Tell us what's your plan
We make this world go round
Even if you thing you do...
Make us understand
