

Revolution

Zardonic

Revolution running through my veins
The evolution breaking down again
Contemplation, assimilation
Tear apart the powers that control the nation

Revolution running through my veins
The evolution breaking down again
Contemplation, assimilation
Tear apart the powers that control the nation

Revolution running through my veins
The evolution breaking down again
Contemplation, assimilation
Tear apart the powers that control the nation

Revolution running through my veins
The evolution breaking down again
Contemplation, assimilation
Tear apart the powers that control the nation

Revolution

The revolution calls and shields through me
And in my eyes surmise humanity
So pray to all your gods, abandoning
Break down the binds that tie you to the stream

The revolution's here, there's no escape
The revolution's here, make no mistake
The revolution's here for you to taste
The revolution's here, the revolution's here

Revolution running through my veins
The evolution breaking down again
Contemplation, assimilation
Tear apart the powers that control the nation

Revolution running through my veins
The evolution breaking down again
Contemplation, assimilation
Tear apart the powers that control the nation

Control the nation
Control the nation
Control the nation

Revolution running through my veins
The evolution breaking down again
Contemplation, assimilation
Tear apart the powers that control the nation

Revolution running through my veins
The evolution breaking down again
Contemplation, assimilation
Tear apart the powers that control the nation

The revolution calls and shields through me

And in my eyes surmise humanity
So pray to all your gods, abandoning
Break down the binds that tie you to the stream

The revolution's here, there's no escape
The revolution's here, make no mistake
The revolution's here for you to taste
The revolution's here, the revolution's here

Revolution running through my veins
The evolution breaking down again
Contemplation, assimilation
Tear apart the powers that control the nation

Revolution running through my veins
The evolution breaking down again
Contemplation, assimilation
Tear apart the powers that control the nation
