

Friends with death

Zavod

I said I would love her 'til all the roses withered away
But I forgot to put the fake rose in the bouquet
(I'm so sorry)

Now we're friends, now we're friends with death
I proposed, I proposed and she said yes

I knew in my heart that it was her and me
She was my biggest mistake
Until the day she found out that none of the roses were fake

Now were friends, now we're friends with death
I proposed, I proposed and she said yes

Now were friends, now we're friends with death
She was my everything
I proposed, I proposed and she said
Now were friends, now we're friends with death
I gave her everything
I proposed, I proposed and she said yes
