

If I Close My Eyes Forever

Zed Yago

Everyone get scared and change the theme but who knows what's really behind is this a journey to nowhere or a step into a world quite different from yours

A golden bridge to a rusty gate to the point of no return a burning rope I ever go

who will decide my last breath who will decide my last command and who will decide my last delight
if I close my eyes forever

I see a secret place always when I dream without hate and threat of violence what is the sence of my life it's a burning rope I ever go

who will decide my last delight and who will decide my last scream
and who will decide my last command
