

I'll Follow You

Zeraphine

have you tried to climb the wall inside yourself what did you see there at the top · if your eyes were shut a boundless chazm made of darkness, pain and fear are you afraid to raise your hands?
follow me

can i ever melt the distance in your eyes that keeps me far away from you what means 'safe' and what is 'real' in your disguise if you take the gory way to truth
i'll follow you

i'm getting closer, don't try to hide again there's no shelter we're all alone · so open your eyes spread your arms and jump with me into the void into the sad reversal of you
follow me
