

The Falcon's Cry

Zero Hour

This uphill climb, will it ever end? Something's going to die!
Kill this old man, my mouth is dry

Sweat like beads of sauder piercing my head
A staff in my hand, I'll hike through the night
I'll hike, and I'll hike, hike, something's going to die!

I'm so cold

I hear something, I'm so cold
I hear something, it's raining

I hear something, if it comes too close
Something's going to die!
I hear something, something's going to die!

At last I can see
At last I can breathe (again)
To touch the sky
At last I can see (again)

I fall down to my knees in awe
Closer to the edge I walk
To touch the sky, I raise my hands
I close my eyes, I'm not afraid

The water runs, the falcon cries
In my ears, take me away
I start to dream, then catch myself
I fall down to my knees in awe

(Edge) At last I can see
To touch the sky
At last I can breathe (again)

(I fall down to my knees...)
I fall down to my knees in awe
(Closer to the edge...)
Closer to the edge I walk
(To touch the sky...)
To touch the sky, I raise my hands
(I close my eyes...)
I close my eyes, I'm not afraid

(The water runs...)
The water runs, the falcon cries
(In my ears...)
In my ears, take me away
(I start to dream...)
I start to dream, then catch myself
(I fall down to my knees...)
I fall down to my knees in awe

Take, take me away!
Take, take me away!

(Edge) At last I can see

At last I can see
At last I can breathe (again)
