Opelwerk

Zeromancer

Staring at the white walls it feels good when the sun don't shine Two of a kind but there are times you're not listening to me

Nail you to the floor your hands are going numb put out the candles plastered to your skin

It's only for tonight when everyone's asleep frustration comes to me like talking to a machine it's only in your dreams

Bring me down Bring me down

My eyes adjust to the light My eyes adjust to the night

Tonight when everyone's asleep frustration cuts to deep like talking to a machine it's only in your dreams

Tonight, if only it's allright It's only for tonight
