

Everything

Zilch

What if I could be the one, everything under the sun?
Someone of great renowned, the king with the coolest crown,
Stronger than Superman, able to leap tall buildings in a single bound,
And you know that I would really love to try and...

Be everything to everyone, but I know better,
'Cause you're the only one I need to please that really matters

There are times I feel the need for something more to feel complete,
Like a ninety yard field-goal to win every Superbowl,
Another feather in my hat, but these are the things you said would never last,
And you know that I would really love to try and...

Be everything to everyone, but I know better,
'Cause you're the only one I need to please that really matters
Be everything to everyone, but I know better,
'Cause you're the only one I need to please that really matters

And you know that I would really love to try and...

Be everything to everyone, but I know better,
'Cause you're the only one I need to please that really matters
Be everything to everyone, but I know better,
'Cause you're the only one I need to please that really matters
Be everything to everyone, but I know better,
'Cause you're the only one I need to please that really matters
